

Hoyt L. Kesterson II is a consultant in Phoenix and Glendale, Arizona, and specializes in securing electronic commerce and distributed systems. He chaired the international committee responsible for defining X.500, including X.509, from 1986 to 2007. He has participated in the American Bar Association's work on legal aspects of digital signatures in electronic commerce since its beginning.